

The invariant of the study. 'live' and 'sim' both depend on 'policies'; 'policies' depends on neither, and imports no clock, no socket and no global RNG. A policy is therefore never reimplemented for the simulator, and a simulated result travels the same code path as a hardware result (F-21).

Consumes only the joined record set, so hardware runs and simulated runs are analysed by identical code and are directly comparable — the precondition for the validation criterion of F-23.
